AFAP Conference

Teams brainstormed and developed issues they felt needed to be addressed locally or globally.

A total of twelve issues were developed by Bamberg focus groups and were briefed to the 279th BSB command group. Many of the issues are resolved at the local level by the installation commander, but global issues beyond the scope of the installation require a higher level of authority and go forward to the major Army command.

The top five issues as determined by the teams, which will be forwarded to the 98th ASG, are government service jobs for non United States citizens and former service members, legibility of household goods inventory form, limitation on Department of Defense Dependent Schools overseas teacher assignments, mail limitation for retirees, and Servicemember Group Life Insurance coverage levels.

AFAP, the brainchild of Army spouses, was founded in 1983 to provide a forum for input from the people of the Army to Army leadership. Participants provide feedback on what's working and what's not and how it might be fixed.
